

2017 Arkansas Clarinet Day

University of Arkansas
Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences
Department of Music

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS- Department of Music is honored to host the “2017 Arkansas Clarinet Day” on Monday, January 30th, 2017. All events will be held at the Faulkner Performing Arts Center. Participation and attendance is free and the public is cordially invited to attend. Advance registration is requested of all participants. The event includes lecture, recitals and clarinet master classes for all levels by guest clarinetist and clarinet professors from UA, UA-Ft. Smith, Arkansas Tech Univ., and Univ. of Central Arkansas. The morning masterclasses are designed specifically for young clarinetists which will focus on fundamentals and all-state audition materials.

This year guest artists are Andrew Simon (Principal Clarinetist of Hong Kong Philharmonic Orchestra) and two internationally-known woodwind technicians, Mr. Wolfgang Lohff and Brigit Pfeiffer of The Lohff & Pfeiffer Co. (Denmark) A large selection of Buffet Crampon customized clarinets will be available for participants to play test. In addition to the clarinet display, Lohff and Pfeiffer Co. is also offering free on-site minor adjustments on a first-come, first-serve basis.

For more information about the event please go to:

<https://communitymusicschool.uark.edu/instrumental-programs/woodwind-programs/clarinet-day-2016>

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions

Sincerely Yours,

Nophachai Cholthitchanta, D.M.A.
Associate Professor of Clarinet
University of Arkansas
Tel: 479.575.5850
Fax: 479.575.5409
nc@uark.edu